

Dropkick Murphys blackout

"Disheveled, rambunctious, Celtic-tinged punk rock teeming with raggedy sweaty earnestness"
Entertainment Weekly

"Stomp through swaggering anthems and teary Guinness weepers.... a bone crunching bonus"
Spin

"Blackout is the cure for your summertime blues"
Alternative Press

"Their bravest and tightest material to date"
Rolling Stone

"File them under bands to watch"
Hollywood Reporter

"Blackout may be their finest hour"
Radio & Records

"Raise-your-pint-and-sing-along punk"
GQ

"Each track on this LP was built for the mosh pit"
Kerrang

"Back in the studio trenches the Murphys have conceived one of their best offerings yet"
Boston Globe

"Another amazing collection of songs from possibly the greatest drunk rock band on earth"
Metal Hammer

"Righteous rage and a rocking beat"
Boston Herald
